About me

I currently reside in Castel Rock, Co with my husband and two daughters. When I'm not volunteering at my girls' schools as the Social Media Director, or working on my blog, you'll find me cooking, crafting and shopping for the latest trends. I also live for home decor and decorating my house for the holidays. My favorite thing is traveling the world with my family. There's no better experience than getting out there to see how everyone else lives!
